EXTERNAL E-MAIL - From calexander@scott-scott.com

Counsel,

Walgreens has been on notice that there are “two different types of class members” since March 2017. The first line of the initial complaint put Walgreens on notice that Plaintiffs were “consumers” and “third-party payor[s]” that brought this action on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated. ECF No. 1 ¶ 1. As the Court has already rejected the parties’ proposal to provide Walgreens up to 50 pages to file a memorandum in opposition, and Plaintiffs up to 50 pages to file their reply, we do not believe that Walgreens’ motion is warranted. Plaintiffs object to Walgreens’ motion.

Subject: Russo v. Walgreen Co. - Motion for Leave to Exceed Page Limits

Counsel,

Consistent with the parties' March 24, 2022 Joint Agreed Motion for Leave to Exceed Page Limits for Class Certification Briefing, in which the parties sought leave to exceed the page limits for class certification briefing without prejudice to seeking leave to file additional pages following a review of Plaintiffs' opening memorandum, Walgreens intends to move the court for leave to exceed the page limits set forth in the Court's March 28, 2022 Order to allow Walgreens to address different arguments relating to the two different types of class members (i.e. consumers/Individuals and third-partyer payers/Funds). Walgreens proposes requesting an additional 10 pages for each of Walgreens' opposition memorandum and Plaintiffs' reply memorandum.

To the extent Plaintiffs are agreeable to this approach, we have drafted the attached Joint Agreed Motion for Leave to Exceed Page Limits for your review.

Please provide Plaintiffs' position, and, if applicable, Plaintiffs' edits to the draft motion, by tomorrow at 5:00pm ET. We intend to file a motion (whether agreed or opposed) on Wednesday.

Best regards,

Kristin
